The 12th International Conference on Third Language Acquisition and Multilingualism

9-12 September 2020

Call for papers

The 12th International Conference on Third Language Acquisition and Multilingualism will take place at the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Zagreb, Croatia, on September 10-12, 2020. For the first time, the conference will be preceded by a doctoral workshop on September 9, 2020.

We welcome original and previously unpublished papers on research in all areas of multilingualism and the acquisition or use of three or more languages. The language of the conference is predominantly English, but contributions in other languages will also be considered.

Keynote speakers

Danuta Gabryś-Barker, University of Silesia in Katowice

Jason Rothman, University of Tromsø – The Arctic University of Norway

Vesna Mildner, University of Zagreb

Types of presentations

We welcome abstracts in four categories: individual papers in parallel sessions, posters, thematic symposia, and doctoral student workshops.

Individual papers will be allotted 30 minutes: 20 minutes for the presentation and 10 minutes for questions and discussion. Posters will be displayed for the duration of the conference with allotted poster session time. Thematic symposia will focus on one specific topic and will bring together key contributions to the topic. They will take place in 2-hour slots (4 papers) parallel to the other sessions.

DOCTORAL STUDENT WORKSHOP

The doctoral student workshop is intended to serve as a platform for discussions of ongoing PhD research, and for obtaining feedback from senior researchers (discussants) and other scholars. Doctoral student papers will be assigned 30 minutes: 15 minutes for the presentation and 15 minutes for the discussion. Doctoral students, whose proposals are accepted, are required to send their abstracts, presentation and specific questions to a discussant before the conference (deadline TBA). The doctoral workshop will take place on September 9, in the afternoon.

Abstract submission

All abstracts will be reviewed anonymously by the scientific committee and evaluated in terms of the quality of content, clarity, contribution to the field and thematic relevance. Notifications of acceptance will be sent before 31 January 2020.

An individual may appear as first author only once on the programme, in addition to a possible role as thematic symposium organiser or co-author of another paper.

Abstracts for individual papers and posters should be sent in English or in the language of presentation, accompanied by an English translation. The abstracts (max 300 words, excluding title and references, in Times New Roman, 12 pt.) should be submitted no later than 19 November 2019 via EasyAbs (<http://linguistlist.org/easyabs/iaml3conf2020>).
