

Morella Young Researchers Symposium on Multilingualism (MYRSM) 2023

12-13 June 2023
Morella (Castelló, Spain)

CALL FOR PAPERS

Seven years after the very successful Young Researchers Symposium on Multilingualism (DISM) in Donostia in 2016, this new edition will take place in Morella, a medieval jewel near Castelló (Valencia, Spain). The Morella Young Researchers Symposium on Multilingualism (MYRSM) will bring together early career researchers (i.e. MA, PhD and Postdoc students) who work on multilingualism from different perspectives, be it cognitive, linguistic, sociolinguistic or educational. Senior scholars can also attend the symposium as co-authors of the work presented by young researchers. Submissions are solicited for 20-minute oral presentations or posters. Abstracts should be no more than 300 words. Authors' names, affiliations and contact details should be included in a separate second document. Abstracts and the second document should be submitted to myrsm2023@gmail.com by January 28, 2023.

MYRSM will also include two sessions in which experienced researchers will give advice on academic career trajectories, work-life balance, research methodology, mentoring, paper reviewing processes, among other issues that may be of interest to early career researchers.

The conference fee is €90 for early birds and €150 for late registration. The International Association of Multilingualism has agreed to fund 10 grants (€400 each) for selected graduate student to attend the symposium. Further information about applications for funding will be communicated to authors in the acceptance letter.
